

Hot Desking

Membership at Science Creates makes starting and running a deep tech company easier. From hot desking to taking a full lab and office space, all memberships include access to an ever-expanding range of services.

If you're a small business owner or early-stage university spin-out, our hot desking membership is ideal for establishing a Bristol address and gives you access to our pioneering incubator ecosystem.

Situated in central Bristol, our incubators in Old Market & St Philips are a short walk from Bristol Temple Meads and at the end of the Bristol-Bath cycle path; perfectly placed to help you grow your business and network.

Hot desk use includes:

Two days per week use, including access to meeting rooms, break-out spaces and a kitchen

Business address registration

Mail delivery and reception services

Access to our community digital platform, with learning resources and invites to events and training workshops.

As sector specialists, we know that deep tech businesses need unique support to thrive. As a hot desking member, you'll also gain access to a host of events, workshops and activities we hold with our growing network of partners. These, cover topics like:

— Legal advice

— Accounting
